But the Demand Was Not Equal to the Supply

LOWER MARKET FIVE

Some Hogs Had to be Kept Over Night.

The hog market was a nickel lower Some say it was not that much, but the concensus of opinion is that it was 5 cents off, The receipts were over 2,000, and a great many of them were sold. Some had to be kept over, however, on account of a slackaned demand owing to the temporary absence of one of the principal buyers. The quality of the hogs were fair and nearly all of them were suitable stuff. Blarly in the da there was a big run of wagon hogs. The rains gave the farm-ers an opportunity to go hog selling, and they did it. The top price was $4.50 for
